

The Bourne Family have been farmers since the early eighteenth century and have farmed the Snowhill Hill Estate for over eighty years.

The Bourne Coat of Arms and Crest is as recorded in The College of Arms London

Latin FORTITER means BRAVELY

The flying horse is Pegasus flying over the sun

The shield is a gate in a green field as a symbol of a farming family

The blue wave is the symbol of water: Bourne being a small river and a haven